

CONDITIONS ON USE OF THE HALAL CERTIFICATE AND HALAL MARKETING LOGO OF HDIP

- A. Use of the Halal Certificate is subject to conditions which have been specified for the certificate;
- B. The Halal Certificate holder shall be responsible on any abuse or misuse of the certificate subject to the regulations and guidelines;
- C. The Halal Certificate can be withdrawn or terminated at any time and use of the Halal logo is not allowed if the applicant is found to violate the Halal Certification standard; and or if the company wishes not to renew the certificate;
- D. The Halal Certificate cannot be traded, leased, exchanged, forged, abuse, or amended its content in whatever form;
- E. The original and valid Halal Certificate shall be displayed at all times at the address stated on the certificate;
- F. No goods or services are allowed to use Halal logo except with the approval from HDIP;
- G. Advertise of food, beverages, good or services related to food or good including service premises that have obtain the Halal Certificate are encouraged to display the approved Halal logo in their advertisement;
- H. The Halal logo can only use by the rightful holders of the Halal Certification;
- I. Advertised are not allowed to used the Halal logo or any Halal terms in their advertisement for the purpose of misleading consumers;
- J. The Halal logo which is printed or used by the advertiser must adhere to the guidelines approved by HDIP.
- K. Post Certification: Unannounced surveillance inspection will be conducted.

Certificate holder shall update/s certifying body (HDIP) on change/s to application information, raw material, packaging, warehousing and/or distributor, suppliers and on company Halal Management Team.

Renewal application of Halal Certificate shall be submitted at least (2) months before expiration date.

Non-renewal of Halal Certificate shall be delisted (deleted) from HDIP list of Halal Certified Companies.

MADRIGAL V. SINSUAT
Managing Director

Halal Development Institute of the Philippines